

Clef Signs

How many clefs signs are there in music notation?

Trace them carefully then draw them on staff paper.

Which clef focuses on Middle C?

What is the pitch of the bottom line of the bass clef?

What is the pitch of the top line of the treble clef?

What is the pitch of the center line of the alto clef?

What are the focus lines for each clef?

What is the central reference pitch for Western music?

Pitch Names

How many chromatic steps are in a whole step?

How many chromatic steps are in a half step?

Are all diatonic scale steps the same number of semitones apart?

What does the natural sign do?

On a staff paper, write the notes of all black keys as sharps. You can use any clef you want.

On a staff paper, write the notes of all black keys as flats. You can use any clef you want.

Is F \sharp higher or lower than F ?

Is B \flat higher or lower than B ?

Is D \sharp higher or lower than E ?

Enharmonic Equivalents

What is the enharmonic equivalent of D^b?

What is the enharmonic equivalent of G[#]?

What is the enharmonic equivalent of F^b?

What is the enharmonic equivalent of B[#]?